THE COMPETITIVE EDGE

Janice Thomas Mrs. Patricia Brown

CJC's Competitive

There's a firm at Coahoma Junior College. It's called "Competive Edge," a sporting goods manufacturing firm with 23 sophomores on its rolls. It does not turnout any finished productes, but it cranks out a lot of paper work.

"Competitive Edge" is a classroom firm being used by the head of the department of Business and Commerce at CJC Mrs. Pat Burt Brown in her Production Typewriting Class.

"The purpose of the class is to provide students with as close to a real life experience as possible inside the classroom," says Mrs. Brown. "The students go through an initial interview to get a position in the company and then they are either transferred or promoted to different departments."

Mrs. Brown is both the instructor and company director. Before "hiring," students learn to type résumés and letters of applications which they submit as part of their class. After the interview with Mrs. Brown, they are placed in one of the several departments in the company.

"Students are "hired" as Correspondence Specialists are to receive training in Public Relations, Marketing, Accounting, Personnel, Legal, Purchasing, and Executive Offices. They learn to organize and type memos, conference agendas, business letters, manufactures specifications, purchase orders, sales invoices, committee assignments, newsletters, and play vouchers."

When the students become proficient in one area (they all start in purchasing) they are moved to another, but only after an interview. They will work their way through eight departments in this semester.

All the students are sophomores majoring in Secretarial Science or Clerical Office Trainees. In their second semester they will be placed in real life jobs both on and off campus as an intern before graduating.

EDITOR'S MESSAGE

I hope you enjoy viewing this book as much as we have enjoyed putting it together. I hope that it brings back some of your fondest memories.

Being Editor of the 1986 Coahoman is very rewarding, for it taught me many more skills that were related to putting the yearbook together. Without the help of my faithful staff members, Rosezetta Brown, Class Associate Editor and Organization Editor; Retha Ward, Assistant Editor and Feature Editor, the book wouldn't have ever been published.

In the beginning this book started out slow, but as the year grew, so did the book. Even though we encountered some problems. As you view this book, you will see that we dealt with the problems and the book reflects us, the students.

While preparing this book, many people helped this yearbook to be a success. I would like to extend special thanks to Mr. Richardson and Mr. Dorsey, our artists.

I would like to recognize President McKinley C. Martin for his patience, understanding, and concern.

I, along with the annual staff, would like to thank Mrs. Delores Stanford our advisor, who worked patiently and very hard with us in order to complete this book. When things got really rough, she was there with understanding and support.

As we bring this yearbook to a close, I hope that everybody enjoys it as much as we have because this book is a part of our life and memory. It gives me pleasure to bring you The 1986 Coahoman because this is something I can share with everyone, so I leave you with these joyous memories to cherish for as long as you shall live.

Who Has Seen The Wind?

Who has seen the wind, neither
But when the trees bow
Down their heads, the wind
Is passing through.

Who has seen the wind, neither

But when the leaves hang
Trembling, the wind
Is passing by.

ROYAL WALK

Homecoming at A.H.S.

Homecoming week at Coahoma A.H.S., commenced with Kiddy Day, on which the school was filled with an array of toys from the cabbage patch doll to the dump truck. Tuesday, Punk-Rock Day, ushered in rock stars and hippies on the campus. On the day of the Coronation, Wednesday, the students dressed their finest. The Coronation added a bit of elegance to the day with homeroom representatives, classes, clubs and organizations, forming an honor guard for his majesty, King Melvin Hinton and her majesty, Queen Brandla Cosby. Princesses-in-waiting to the queen were Vickie Thomas, 1st alternate and Lisa Houston, 2nd alternate. On Thursday, truly a day to remember, students dressed tacky. Friday which was Tiger Day, everyone dubbed the school colors, maroon and white. At 8:30 Friday morning, the faculty and student body were involved in a high-spirited Pep Rally, in which each class competed for the most school spirit with the senior class winning.

Climaxing the entire week was Saturday when a homecoming parade was held in the city of Clarksdale. The grand marshall of the parade was Patricia Witt, host of the Channel-6 News Magazine. The grand finale of this year's spectacular Homecoming week was the AHS Tiger football game, where Rose Jordan was crowned Miss Homecoming 1985-86 by principal Felton. Her alternates were Brenda Artis and Tammie Johnson.

The Mississippi Economic Council of Jackson, MS, sponsors the Star-Student-Teacher program. Its purpose is to recognize high achievement among seniors enrolled in Mississippi high schools. Both public and private high school students in Mississippi are eligible to enter the program. To be recognized, a star-student must make a minimum score of 20 on the ACT and have a grade-point average of 92 or above. If a student makes a 34 or above, two star-students are chosen for that school. After a star-student has been chosen, he or she chooses a star-teacher; one who has contributed the most to his educational development.

1985-86 "Tiger Pride"

The Coahoma Agricultural High School football team has received the total support and loyalty from their superintendent, faculty, staff and student body. Coach Sammy Lee Felton's heavyweight team is our pride and joy, and we adore the Tigers. Whether it's the thrill of victory or the agony of defeat, we still support our athletes.

'1986' Tiger Honor '1986'

The Coahoma Aggie Tigers (defending Class A State Champions) are here again for another battle royal. The Aggie Superstars went for the gold another year. Unfortunately, fate would not let them make a repeat performance. Under the guidance and fatherhood of Coach James Washington, the 85-86 All-Stars are attempting the Championship for years to come. Even though the tigers are rebuilding, growing, and achieving greatness, they are going to reach their goal. They didn't come here to start any trouble; they just came here to do the "TIGER SHUFFLE."

"THE HEART OF TIGER COUNTRY"
1985-86

The Coahoma Aggie Lady Tigers are young but experienced. The Tigerettes had some tough but exciting battles. Through all of this the ladies remained the heart of the Coahoma family. The Tigerettes fought for the pride of the Ms. Delta. The Tigerettes are bound for the promised land. With the help and support of the Tiger family, the lady tigers are going to reach their highest peak. Coach Earl Barron, the leader of the pack, says "We have the talent and experience; all we need to do is mold it and bring it together." Our hats are off to you lady tigers. We're behind you 100%.

Ursula Annette Smith

EDITOR

The year of 1985 has been a transition period for Coahoma Agricultural High School. Aggie has a new principal who has made many changes and a new breed of students. Highlights of this new era will be brought forth in this edition of The Aggian as we keep with this year's theme "Working Together."

Being editor of the Aggian has been an educational venture for me. It is a tedious task; one that requires many long hours of toil and working hard. It has taught me patience and tolerance, for as editor one is faced with deep rooted problems. I, along with the rest of the staff, have managed to withstand these pressures.

The publication of this book would not have been possible without the tireless determination of some members of the staff who have worked together. The faithful few did an excellent job.

I would like to express my utmost appreciation to those who dedicated their time in compiling this book. I extend special thanks to our advisor who worked very closely with the staff. I would also like to thank our photographer and the members of the annual staff for their untiring efforts in the production of the 1986 Aggian.

I am hoping that this issue of the Aggian will hold many treasures of the 1985-86 school year. We have tried to add color and variety to better preserve your treasured memories of the year. I hope you enjoy it as much as we have enjoyed bringing it to you.

Willie B. Payno

CO-EDITOR

Once again another [illegible] chapter has been added to the Book of Life of our distinguished institution, Coahoma Acocultural High School. By carrying out the theme "Working Together," we, the members of the 1985-86 yearbook staff, have tried to reproduce a glimpse of the [illegible] at Agricultural.

As the 1985- [illegible] editor, I would like to thank the faculty, staff, and entire student body for their help and cooperation. Working together to carry out [illegible] demanding but also rewarding.

Who Has Seen The Wind?

Who has seen the wind, neither
But when the trees bow
Down their heads, the wind
Is passing through.

Who has seen the wind, neither
you nor I
But when the leaves hang
Trembling, the wind
Is passing by.
